Location

This is a business only sale, meaning the business will have to be re-located. However currently, this fantastic masonry supply shop is located in the rural village of Helmshore in Rossendale, Lancashire. Just south of Haslingden, other nearby towns include Rawtenstall, Newchurch and Bacup which are all also in close proximity. The area is easily reached via the A56 allowing easy access for customers and visitors, however, the business would be easily re-locatable within the UK if desired.

Business History

Online Business Sales are delighted to offer to the market this excellent opportunity to purchase a retail/wholesale masonry tool business. The business was originally founded in 2000 but due to our client's other business interests and after the effects of Covid and Brexit, he has not developed the business to its full potential. However, over the years the company has developed some leading brands within the stone tool industry, benefitting the business hugely. The vendor owns certain intellectual property and business to sell some unique and highly profitable tools. The sales of these brands have steadily grown at a rate of 15% to 20% per annum. The business benefits from a professional, multi-lingual, European retail website, created by our client 10 years ago, fully hosted on the vendors own dedicated server which boasts first page ranking on Google . This site is also linked to both Amazon and Ebay shopping sites and contains a full stock control system. Though the amount of external marketing is limited and has a lot of room for scope. The business is ripe for taking to a commercial level, ideally as a bolt-on business. However not limited to, as this would also be an ideal first time buyer opportunity as the business is easy to operate, with low overheads, and training can be provided by our client to the successful purchaser. Unfortunately, the current owner does not commit to full-time work, meaning there is huge scope to further develop the business by adding additional lines and income streams or extending the businesses opening hours. Our client is looking for a good home for the business which would easily re-locate with a change of address.
